Dario Chiazzolino, multi-time Best Guitarist winner, is not only an exceptional musician (a virtuoso and world-renowned guitarist), but also a highly-gifted composer. He released his new album Red Cloud on Feb. 29, 2016. The album, which was produced by Tukool Records and engineered by Umberto Ferrara, is "a concept album inspired by an orchestral approach." In this unique collaboration with famed pianist Antonio Faraò, drummer Manhu Roche and bassist Dominique Di Piazza, Dario Chiazzolino has composed and arranged all new material, especially for this project. On Red Cloud, you will not only hear some of the world's premier musicians, but also the colossal talents of Italian guitar player and composer/arranger, Dario Chiazzolino. Red Cloud contains original compositions along with a tribute to Miles Davis' "Solar." This album should be listened to carefully, not only because of its extraordinary players, but also because of the perfectly focused repertoire, which reaches its climax with "Red Cloud", "Storm" and "Eternity."
